

Ken Root is veteran agricultural reporter with a background in radio, television and print. He has plied his trade in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Washington, D.C., and Iowa. Root was the original host of AgriTalk, a daily one hour talk show that focused on agriculture and rural America. He has been recognized as the outstanding farm broadcaster of the year (2009) and winner of the New Holland Oscar in Agriculture (1983 and 2008). Root has traveled to thirty countries as an agricultural reporter, including a trip to Iraq with former U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, Mike Johanns, in 2006. Root is the host of the Agribusiness Report on WHOHD-TV Channel 13 in Des Moines. The report airs twice daily at 5:45 am and 12:50 pm,

